SELF EVALUATION OVERVIEW

Why are self evaluations important?

- Opportunity for employees to reflect on their contribution towards Priorities and demonstration of the GE Vernova Way
- Data point used by People Leaders to help with their holistic evaluation and calibration of employee performance
- Support our pay for performance philosophy aligning rewards to performance

What this looks like:

- Employees will comment on each priority's progress and demonstration of each of the GE Vernova Way principles, without assigning formal ratings
- People Leaders will comment on overall priority progress and GE Vernova Way demonstration, providing an overall rating for Priorities and an overall rating for the GE Vernova Way, using the three-point scale of Inconsistent, Successful, and Exceptional
- A live discussion where both walk away with a clear understanding of performance for the year

Preparing for the Self Evaluation

Use the below questions and tips to help prepare

QUESTIONS

THE WHAT: Priorities

REVIEW EACH PRIORITY TO DETERMINE:

What should your People Leader know about your unique contributions?

What data points do you have to reveal this impact?

THE HOW: GE Vernova Way

REFLECT ON THE PRINCIPLES AND IDENTIFY:

What GE Vernova Way Principles have you demonstrated effectively?

Are there certain GE Vernova Way principles you could put more focus on to have a bigger impact?

TIPS:

- Ensure your priorities are up to date, and consider any new priorities to be added
- Take the time you need to reflect on your contributions and demonstration of the GE Vernova Way without overthinking it!
- Review your Midyear Discussion inputs, taking note of feedback received and progress made since
- Take (or solicit!) insights/feedback from key stakeholders into consideration
- Have a balanced view, considering successes, short-falls, and learnings
- Block time on your calendar, keeping in mind the deadline is October 31 for self evaluation submission
- Familiarize yourself with the ratings guidance your People Leader will use to determine your two ratings

Writing the Self Evaluation

Things to consider

CHECKLIST

What makes a good writeup?

- ✓ Show reflection and any insight from stakeholders
- ✓ Includes qualitative and quantitative data points
- ✓ Succinct but specific
- ✓ Explains what was accomplished and how it was done
- ✓ Highlights recognition if applicable
- ✓ For any deliverables remaining, ensure planned YE actions and expected results are included

LEVERAGING AMP

DON'T

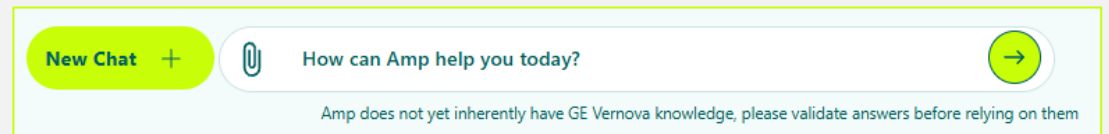

- Use external AI tools (Amp only)
- Ask Amp to write it for you
- Enter employee-specific information
- Copy-paste Amp output without review

DO

- Follow Amp user guidelines
- Ask Amp to refine your writing and help you prepare for conversations
- Use very specific prompts
- Carefully review and edit anything that Amp helps you prepare

Try these prompts:

- Is this information sufficient for my People Leader to evaluate my performance?
- What could be added to make it stronger?
- Is there a way to write this more succinctly with Smart Brevity principles?
- Does this articulate my demonstration of the GE Vernova Way principle <<principle name>>?

Priorities

Example 1 (met target)

Priority: Reduce supplier costs by 45% from [Product Name] baseline

Comment: Consolidated 10 contracts into 3, also switched one of our suppliers and negotiated a 10% discount for first year of business. Cost reduction is already down to 38%, tracking to hit 45% by end of November.

Example 2 (missed target)

Priority: Reduce supplier costs by 45% from [Product Name] baseline

Comment: Due to resource constraints, was not able to adjust contracts until Oct, therefore will not see a cost reduction until Q1 2026, targeted at 25%

GE Vernova Way

Principle: Innovation

Comment: Top strength for 2025 - questioned the way we've always done training. Pushed for a more technologically cutting-edge solution with AI videos so we could serve up in several languages while reducing the number of man hours needed to deliver the content.

Principle: Customers

Comment: Top opportunity for 2025 - did not go to gemba often enough to understand if our end solutions were meeting customer needs. Need to prioritize focus group efforts in future roll outs.
